

Course Instructor Festo Scandinavia

Our Didactic course instructor for Festo Scandinavia has new tasks within the company and therefore we are looking for a replacement. As a trainer with responsibility for Scandinavia you will be part of Festo, a stable family business, where we believe that the way to success is through development, loyalty, responsibility, mutual respect and team spirit.

The Festo Didactic business area is a global supplier of technical expertise for industry, schools and universities. Through courses and competence development as well as a complete education system, we offer the market complete solutions at all levels within electrical, mechanical and automation technology.

Job description:

- Responsible for the course activities with product adaption to the market in Scandinavia
- Planning of course program and be a course instructor
- Planning, coordinate and training of external instructors
- Responsible for training facilities and equipment
- Responsible for technical support (Ticket System)
- Product support of education system "Learning System"
- Proactive with customers and assistance with sales of company-tailored courses

Who are you?

If you apply for this position, you have a technical education in automation. We believe that you have some years of experience as for example teacher or course instructor.

Work area within automation is broad and varying. You will be a trainer in pneumatics, programmable control systems (PLC), electrical drifts with servomotors and buss- and network communication. You are also familiar with software.

Important for the service are:

- Technical education in automation
- Fluent in Swedish and good knowledge in English. Knowledge of Danish/Norwegian is meritorious
- Experience in education as a teacher or course instructor
- Initiative, responsible, structured and focused
- Ability to be self-motivated
- You think technology, development and education are fun!
- We are a happy bunch who like to work in a team. It is important that the person applying for the position thinks teamwork is fun and the key to success

We offer you:

- Onboarding and ongoing development of competences
- Work in an international environment with your base in our Nordic Didactic team
- Personal development
- Insurances, lunch- and wellness benefit
- Possibility to work from home two out of five days a week
- Fun at work

Others:

- You will report to Stefan Johansson, Head o Sales Didactic, +46 40 383830
- Location: Malmö

If you are interested:

- Please send you application with CV and personal letter to Gustaf Borg, Head of HR Nordic, finance-hr@se.festo.com at the latest 31st of January 2023. We have an ongoing selection process and the position can be filled earlier. Therefore we urge you to send your application as soon as possible.